When we asked planning commissioners months ago why they had introduced in their proposed new zoning ordinance so many undesirable uses, both permitted and conditional (use permit) they said, "for convenience of the citizens."

This is a reversal of the thinking of councils and planning commissions which have protected Carmel in the past. Carmel zoning since 1929 has been based on the assumption that you can't have everything. If you don't want to live with the "ugly businesses" as Herbert Heron calls them, then you pay for your high quality zoning with inconvenience. Carmel citizens appear to have been satisfied with this arrangement up to now. I think they still are.

Actually Carmel has got along for years with the service uses over the hill with little or no inconvenience. It takes no more effort to telephone to Seaside or Pacific Grove for exterminator service than to call one if there were one in Carmel. Told by their chairman that exterminator yards are smelly with their creosoted materials lying out to dry, the planning commission decided to allow exterminator shops but not yards in the C-1-S zone. This qualification was not stated in the ordinance. And later they took the exterminator use out of the conditional uses (use permit) and put it in the permitted uses category. An exterminator could set up shop anywhere in the proposed C-1-S zone without even being put to the inconvenience of obtaining a use permit. In time he would ask for a yard, as an accessory use. And certainly a yard, an essential part of the business, is an accessory use. Even if the request for a yard is not made, the possibility that an exterminator shop may be set up next door is not an attraction to owners or purchasers of C-1-S property; nor the possibility of a cutlery grinder, or, for the obtaining of a use permit, a plumber, gas station, a bus depot. And if someone wants to set up a Class 1 business or build a professional building, where is he to find Class 1 zoning? Under the new ordinance only business blocks facing Ocean Avenue and half blocks north from Sixth Avenue are Class 1. This area is entirely built upon.

Under the proposed zoning ordinance two thirds of the business district, now Class 1 zoning will become C-1-S, service zone. A small portion in the north east corner remains zoned for service and light industry, C-2 as formerly.

This is an extremely large proportion of land in which service and light industry uses are permitted, about four-fifths of the business district. It is a high proportion for any town; for Carmel it is unbelievable.

There is something very wrong with a plan and ordinance which shrinks the protected zone of the business area to a few blocks already covered and makes it im-

"YES DEAR - I'M TO GET A LOAF OF BREAD - A HOME RUN - DOZEN EGGS AND MAIL A GENEROUS CHECK TO THE COMMUNITY CHEST"

Carmel has raised 45.5 % of its $32,000 1961 quota Colonel (Chan) Howland (USA ret.), General Chairman of the 1961 Community Chest Fund Drive, announced today and total Peninsula collections to date amounted to $57,772 which is 42% of the total civilian goal of $132,800. This represents an increase of $7,309.65 over last year's collections for the same period of time.

Col. Howland urged all volunteer solicitors to try and complete their calls this week and report their collections to any one of the nearest three Chest Offices which are—424 Jefferson St., Monterey; PG & E office on Dolores St., Carmel, and Chamber of Commerce, Pacific Grove, after 1:00 p.m.

Council To Start Big Task With Little Time In Zoning Ord. Session

The Carmel City Council will go to work Wednesday night, 8:00 o'clock, on the planning commission's proposed new zoning ordinance. They will also decide whether it will be necessary to extend the interim ordinance.

The council may delete items or whole sections from the zoning ordinance and adopt it without first sending it back to the planning commission.

But if the council makes any changes in the zoning ordinance, other than deletions, they must return it to the planning commission for consideration and another round of public hearings.

City Attorney John Morse pointed out, during council discussion following the public hearing on the proposed zoning ordinance Monday night, that if the council should have a revised ordinance "ready to send back to the planning commission tomorrow" there still would not be time to pass it before the expiration of the interim ordinance, November 30.

Mayor Frank Putnam appeared to favor starting proceedings to extend the interim ordinance Monday night, apparently impressed with the amount of citizens' criticism of the ordinance presented in the three-hour public hearing. "I hoped we'd come to this point with more unanimity but it appears that the ordinance cannot be adopted in its present form and I would not recommend it."

Councilman Eben Whittlesey said, "I can't go for the ordinance in the form in which it exists, and I don't like having a pistol at my head," the latter referring to the deadline imposed by the expiration of the interim ordinance. He proposed an extension of the in-

School Still Sits On Total Recreation Tax, "Center" Out In The Cold

Recreation commissioners, Tuesday afternoon, met with representatives of the Rotary Club and Youth Center adult board to discuss recreation for older citizens as well as teenagers. They recommended to the city council that two shuffleboard and two horse-shoe pitching courts be installed at the First and Mission city-owned park site for the older members of the community but found no solution for Youth Center financial problems.

Commissioners present were Chairman August Nieto, William Wakefield, George V. Yates, Police Chief Clyde Klaumann, and James Buffington. Rotary Club representatives were Hugh Smith and Mayor Frank Putnam, club president. P. A. McCreery, president of the Youth Center adult board, and Councilman John Chittwood spoke for the youth group. Councilman Francis Whitaker, street commissioner, took part in the discussion on the park site.

Chairman Nieto stated that the Rotary Club for some time has been endeavoring to establish recreation facilities for elder citizens as a community service project and asked for a report on club findings in this respect.

Mr. Smith responded with results compiled from answers to a questionnaire circulated by the club. He said many requests for lawn bowling had been received but exploration proved this pastime was not appropriate for city property because of being expensive to establish and maintain and not of general interest to older residents.

Mr. Putnam added that the prime interest of the Rotary Club was to serve the community by giving citizens what they want and need.

Mr. Yates inquired whether there is any local desire for horse-shoe courts. Chairman Nieto suggested that the club be asked to

TO MEET DEMOCRATS

Mrs. Peter Lawford, sister of Democratic Presidential nominee, Senator Jack Kennedy, and Mrs. Ted Kennedy, wife of Senator Kennedy's brother, will be here tomorrow to talk to local Democrats.

Mrs. Lawford and Mrs. Kennedy will be at Democratic Headquarters, 229 Alvarado Street, at 11:30 o'clock. Any interested person is invited to meet them. At noon they will be guests of the Carmel Democratic Women's Club for luncheon at the Casa Munras. Attendance at the luncheon is by reservation.

Water Fight Tonight

Carmel Volunteer Fire Department members will hold their annual water fight this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the intersection of Ocean Avenue and San Carlos Street, according to Fire Chief Robert Smith. A demonstration of carbon dioxide and soda acid extinguishers will precede the hose battle. Both are part of the department's Fire Prevention Week observances.

Also this week, firemen are showing the fire house to kindergarten, first and second graders from Woods and River School. The River pupils came to the fire house in buses earlier this week. Woods School students are walking to the fire house today and tomorrow.

"They all get hats, badges and check sheets," Chief Smith reports.

Editor's note: (Parents may prepare to have well-informed youngsters, check sheets in hand, go over all electric cords, look for cartons filled with rubbish, examine cleaning materials, storage, check outlets and give lectures about extension cords.)

The water fight will have two teams. One will be made up of firemen, the other, officers of the fire department. The teams, by directing their hoses, will try to push a barrel across a line. First team to do this will be declared the winner.

Chief Smith promises a mysterious woman will wander across the fighting area and be properly doused, "if we can get a big enough dress." He also expects Pon Chung, honorary volunteer fireman, to be one of the "street supervisors."

Senior Arts Crafts Show Opens Mon.

Mrs. Helen V. Bennett, president announces that The Monterey Peninsula Senior Craftsmen and Painters will have their work on display and for sale at The Party Carousel, Tuck Box Court, from Monday, October 17 through Saturday, October 22, 10:00 to 5:00 o'clock each day.

This yearly special event for the past two years was called Craft Fair. Sponsored by the Soroptimists, Lions, and the Carmel Foundation, this week-long sale was the only opportunity for selling their work that Carmel senior craftsmen had. Now, at Party Carousel they have a year-round outlet, and after their first experimental months they are ready to present their work to the community in the Fall Show.

There will be weaving of all kinds, copper work, rugs, driftwood carving, Christmas decorations and cards, textile prints with timely political designs and others, wall hangings, etc., and there will be a carefully selected group of paintings, many of local scenes.

A volunteer acceptance committee will be in charge. (Continued on Page Seventeen)

PADRE VARSITY EDGES KING CITY; JAYVEES AND LIGHTWEIGHTS LOSE

Given its most severe test in the past three seasons, Carmel High's varsity football squad had to fight back from a third quarter 13-13 deadlock to gain a close 21-13 victory over the hard-fighting King City Mustangs last Saturday afternoon at Carmel's Bardarson Field. While the Padre varsity was fortunate enough to stave off the spirited challenge of the Mustang varsity, the Carmel junior-varsity and lightweight squads went down to defeat before two well-equipped

King City teams. The King City lightweights outscored the Padre Babes, 14 to 0, while Coach Bill Pitcher's Mustang jayvees romped over Fred Rainer's charges, 38 to 6.

In the varsity clash, Carmel got on the board first as Mike Draper slashed through the middle for a 55-yard scoring jaunt. Doyle Clayton's conversion was true to the mark and the Padres were leading 7-0 early in the first period. Irked by the quick Padre touchdown, King City's jolting fullback, Jim Mankins, charged through the Padre left tackle position and bulled his way 52 yards across the Carmel goal line. The Mustangs attempted to run for the extra-point but were stymied by the hard-hitting Padre line. Carmel's Frank Mayo got another six for the Padre side late in the second period when he bootlegged around the Mustang right flank for a 12-yard scoring thrust. Clayton's kick was wide and the two teams left for the halftime intermission with Carmel in front, 13 to 6.

A Padre fumble set the stage for the Mustangs to knot the count at 13-13 early in the fourth period, but the local preps surged back on the strength of Greg Hulse's block of a Mustang punt and some clutch running by junior fullback George Pollock. Mike Draper knifed the last four yards to give Carmel the go-ahead touchdown. Clayton's kick missed the uprights and the Padres had a precarious 19-13 bulge with five minutes left in the game. A spirited Padre defense cornered the Mustangs near their goal line and trapped the hard-running Mankins for a two-point safety to put the game out of reach at 21-13.

The sturdy line play of John Wilkin, Greg Hulse, and Frank Preve was outstanding for the Padres and they needed to be good to stop the powerful running of the Mustang's Jim Mankins. In the Carmel secondary, the crisp tackling of George Pollock and Lee Oleson was instrumental in stopping dangerous King City scoring threats. Mike Draper, the game's top ground-gainer, sparked the Padre offense with 126 yards in 16 carries. Fullback George Pollock and halfback Danny Moore also contributed substantial gains to the Padre cause.

Carmel's junior-varsity was no match for the heavier King City Broncos and were out of contention early in the second period when the Broncos pushed across three touchdowns for a 20-0 half-time lead. Operating behind a big hard-charging forward wall, halfbacks David Banuelos and David Frazier ripped through the Carmel defense with reckless abandon and gave the Broncos game control from the opening whistle. The Little Padres got on the board late in the final period when Terry Bishop slashed over from three yards out.

Carmel's lightweight squad was badly outmanned by the sturdy King City crew but put up a good fight before being snowed under, 14 to 0. Steve Johnson, Dennis Clark, and Bob Holmes did some good running for Coach Hick's gang and the accurate passing of George DuBets was a bright spot in the sputtering Carmel offense. The hastily-scheduled lightweight game was marred by an hour's delay occasioned by the failure of game officials to notify the team doctor to be present for the game.

PADRE VARSITY AT MERCED FRIDAY NIGHT

With two league wins to its credit in two outings this season, Carmel High's varsity football team travels to Merced Friday night for a practice joust with the well-regarded El Capitan High Gauchos. This will be the first competition between the two schools and the inter-league tilt appears to be an even-up contest. The Gauchos clipped Merced High, 35 to 0, and whipped neighboring Livingston in about the same fashion to establish themselves as the top team in the Merced area. The Padres, currently riding a 28-game undefeated string, holds wins over Gilroy and King City, but have yet to meet the tough competition encountered by the Gauchos.

Carmel's hard-running pony backfield of Mike Draper, George Pollock, Bill Coleman, and quarterback Frank Mayo will get a severe test from the big El Capitan line which averages close to 200 pounds. Up front, the Padres will try to open the running lanes with Scott Forbes and Doyle Clayton, ends; Bob Blair and Greg Hulse, tackles; John Wilkin and Gary Sciutto, guards; and Paul Rice, center. CARMEL HIGH JUNIOR- VARSITY TRAVELS TO LIVE OAK

This weekend's junior-varsity football action which was originally scheduled for Carmel High's Bardarson Field Saturday afternoon has been shuffled around and the Padre jayvees will wind up playing the Live Oak varsity in Morgan Hill Friday night. Morgan Hill, home of the Live Oak Acorns, has just installed a lighted football field for the Acorns and the Live Oak administration requested the change in playing site.

With Coach Fred Rainer in Europe for his sister's wedding, Coach Dick Lawitzke will pull the strings for the Little Padres as they attempt to bounce back from a shellacking at the hands of the King City Broncos. Although the Carmel lads were soundly whipped by the King City jayvees, they came out of the game in good condition and figure to give the Live Oak varsity a rugged challenge. The Little Padres outscored Live Oak in the CCAL Jamboree last month, but the improved Acorns should give Rainer's Ramblers a solid tussle tomorrow night.

PADRE LIGHTWEIGHTS CHALLENGE GONZALES SATURDAY NIGHT

Looking for its first win of the current season, Coach Hadley Hicks' Carmel High lightweight football squad travels to Gonzales this Saturday morning for a 10:00 o'clock game with Buddy Gutierrez's Little Spartans. The Padre lights picked up valuable game experience while dropping decisions to North Salinas and King City and will go into Saturday's clash on even terms with the Gonzales Babes. The lightweight squad is greeting new players every day and now has over 40 boys participating in the freshman-sophomore program.

AAUW OCTOBER PROGRAMS

Dynamics of the 'Sixties and the University Woman is the theme for branch meeting programs of the Monterey Peninsula American Association of University Women, according to Mrs. Lewis Lenhart, program chairman.

Dr. Frederick Huber, president of Monterey Peninsula College, will discuss Group Dynamics at the first luncheon meeting at Coral de Tierra Country Club on Saturday. He has developed courses in group dynamics and taken part in workshops in this field at the University of Michigan.

This week Mrs. William Hubbard, who recently returned from the Far East and Europe, told of her experiences in Turkey during the military coup for the Armchair Travel group on Tuesday at the Carmel home of Mrs. M. G. Brislawn and Miss Florence Waller.

Mrs. Roland Scheffler reviewed The Challenge We Face by Richard Nixon and Mrs. Lorne Dewar James Burns', John Kennedy, a Political Profile, for the evening book section the same day at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Hill.

Fletcher Dutton, who during the summer went on a Sierra Club mountaineering expedition to Africa, will address the International Relations group on Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Mathis.

Joseph Danysh of the Discovery Gallery will direct discussion on contemporary painting for the Arts group that will meet at the gallery on October 24, 7:45 o'clock in the evening.

Queen Mary by James Pope Hennessy will be reviewed for the afternoon book section by Mabel Stark on October 25 at 2:00 o'clock in the home of Mrs. W. L. Marr, Casanova near Fifth.

Miss Patricia Lane will discuss ballot measures for the Social and Economics group on October 25 at 8:00 o'clock in the evening at the home of Mrs. Duncan Sprague, Pebble Beach.

Reservations must be made by Monday for the first meeting of the bridge section on Thursday also at Mrs. Sprague's home. Reservations for the general meeting may be made by telephoning Mrs. Lorne F. Dewar or Mrs. E. C. Devoir.

term ordinance for three months. "A year would be unrealistic," he said. (Councilman Gunnar Norberg had proposed that length of time.)

Councilman Norberg then proposed six months' extension.

Councilman Francis Whitaker suggested one month extension. "I am convinced the ordinance is not acceptable to the general public, and I think not to a majority of the council. We should go over it word by word. I'd be willing to meet tomorrow night and every night until the job is done."

It was at this point the city attorney told the council that there was no time for changes, only deletions, unless the interim ordinance were extended, and a month's extension would not be enough.

John Chitwood said the planning commission had been six years working on zoning ordinances and he would not vote for an extension of the interim ordinance. "This could go on for 10-20-30 years." Four votes, however, are all that are needed to pass the emergency extension.

Since it was fifteen minutes past the 11:00 o'clock deadline Mayor Putnam had set at the beginning of the evening, he proposed adjournment until next Wednesday.

Of the thirty citizens who spoke at the public hearing, none were satisfied with the proposed zoning ordinance. Admiral C. W. Fisher, representing the Carmel Citizens Committee, objected to the introduction in the C-1-S zone through use permits of gasoline stations and other uses formerly confined to C-2. He also deplored the lack of controls over size of buildings. Patricia Hall protested the C-2 uses under use permits in C-1-S as did J. O. Handley. "With use permits we don't know what our property is zoned for," Handley said. Also, putting uses formerly confined to C-2 on use permit in C-1-S would "compete with C-2." "The wide streets of C-2 are suited to these uses, not the narrow streets of C-1-S." He took exception to Admiral Fisher's bulk control proposal and his insistence on Carmel's being primarily a residential town. It was at one time but now it has 43 motels, he said. "Face the facts."

Victor Velissaratos objected to the recent ordinance freeing the city clerk from the necessity of notifying the residential district property owners of rezoning the business district. In a letter read at the beginning of the meeting, he objected to use permits which would allow gas stations, bus depots, plumbing shops and other hitherto prohibited uses in the C-1-S district across the street from his home.

R. W. Hayler spoke for control of size of buildings. Mrs. Rose Crumrine opposed the C-2 uses on permit in the C-1-S, particularly bus depots, "which shouldn't be anywhere but in C-2 zone where they are now allowed." She wanted building sites to be limited to 8,000 square feet, and no building larger than 4,000 square feet. Mrs. David O'Neil said she wished to "echo Admiral Fisher." Colonel C. B. Hazeltine, speaking for himself and Colonel Wesley Yale, urged rejection of the ordinance because it fails to provide for site and bulk control. He recommended the discharge of the planning commission, a new zoning ordinance to be worked out by a committee of residents and businessmen with the aid of a paid consultant.

Dudley Nix said he was "definitely against change in C-1 zoning" such as issuing permits for gas stations, and bus terminals in the C-1-S zone. Jerome Thompson protested Carmel's becoming "another Hillsdale" as he believed it would without a stiffer ordinance than the one under consideration. "Carmel must not become suburbia."

Florence Durrell said that in the 1940 ordinance new gas stations are allowed only in the C-2 zone. She objected to use permits allowing them in the C-1-S portion of the present C-1. "We don't want them scattered all over town. We have nine. If that isn't enough we can coast down the hill to Monterey." She deplored the commission's policy of planning for 25 years ahead. "We have plenty of gas for ourselves and our tourists. Twenty-five years from now we all may be in Mars."

Another protestant against the use permits for C-2 uses in the C-1 (C-1-S) was Sid Dibble, who pointed out that introducing such uses would depress property values.

Former City Councilman James Buffington objected to the 1000 square feet per unit for motels. Under the provision he would not be able to rebuild his motel, which now has 12 units, to more than eight. The 100 percent offstreet parking for motels he approves.

Paul West wanted size limitation on business buildings. Gene Ricketts wanted commercial zoning for the residential block on the west side of Lincoln between Fifth and Sixth.

Waldo Hicks, proclaiming himself "the best damn plumber in Carmel," who had just dropped in and hadn't been following the zoning developments until that evening, got the impression from the protests against allowing new plumbing shops in C-1-S on use permit that he "would be run out of town." He was assured by several later speakers that his status under the proposed ordinance, with or without use permits in the C-1-S, would be the same as it is under the present ordinance. He also protested the 1,000 square feet per unit limitation since it would not enable him to develop a piece of business property on which his home now stands.

Robert Strum wanted size control for business building and opposed the use permits proposed for the C-1-S district. Ritter Holman said he was aligned with Admiral Fisher, lest Carmel "end up like Santa Cruz."

Robert Little pointed out that there are 20 corners in the C-2 zone for new gasoline stations to occupy; he objected to use permits that would allow them to move onto any of the 60 corners in the C-1-S. "Nobody is trying to drive gas stations out of town," he pointed out. And nobody was trying to drive Waldo, "a wonderful guy" out of town. Waldo is permitted to continue with his plumbing shop, he said, as he protested invasion of the C-1-S district by new plumbing shops through the use permit.

Samuel Radcliffe "a bewildered new resident" who has been visiting here since 1920, felt that the new ordinance did not contain safeguards enough to keep this a residence community. Mrs. Philip Schneeberger protested lack of controls on chain stores.

Former Mayor Herbert Heron, founder of the Carmel Shakespeare Festival, and seen in many roles on the stage of the Forest Theater, said, in protesting the proposed C-1-S use permits: "It is said C-2 is now not large enough for ugly businesses. I see no reason for making a primrose path for businesses of that kind. We have nine service stations and plenty of plumbing shops. Suppose they do have an advantage." He said he didn't want any more motels or huge businesses. He repeated his plea against the spread of "ugly businesses into what is now a protected business district" and closed with a recitation of Antony's speech in Julius Caesar beginning: "Good friends, sweet friends, let me not stir you up . . ."

Mayor Putnam broke his own admonition against applause in leading the hand clapping that filled the crowded council chambers.

Colonel C. A. De Camp also spoke against the use permits in C-1-S, while Willard Newman suggested that the Livingston Plan be brought out again. Jeanie Morgan Klenke asked for controls that would make impossible "another Fenton Block" and protested the C-1-S use permits.

Wilma Cook protested C-2 uses on use permits in C-1-S and exterminator shops as a permitted use in C-1-S. Bus depots proposed as use permit uses in C-1-S are exempted from the requirement that all businesses be conducted in a building. One could operate a bus depot on a rented vacant lot, she said.

Attorney Charles O'Gara, representing Lloyd Tevis, and Malcolm Millard, representing Robert Stanton, protested the special C-1-L zoning. They were supported by Harrison Godwin, Patricia Hall, and a petition signed by many property owners.

Almost all the speakers urged the council to extend the interim ordinance so as to give themselves time to work on the proposed zoning ordinance.

J. C. Board Approves Computer Purchase On Matching Funds

Monterey Peninsula Junior College District will rule on sabbatical leaves for faculty members, and is empowered to borrow money from the county, President Frederick R. Huber, secretary of the college board, informed trustees at their meeting last night.

Formerly, these matters were functions of the Monterey High School District that administered MPC before the separate junior college board was established.

Trustees authorized purchase of an IBM 1620 computer last evening. Mr. Huber informed them the district could obtain, for little cost, this latest entry in the computer field for student training during the 1961 academic year. The district is qualified for a matching funds educational discount under the National Defense Education Act in this matter. The purchase cost would be better than rental, Mr. Huber told the board.

He reported on legislative proposals already under consideration that affect junior colleges and promised a fuller report after the October meeting of the Junior College Association meeting at Yosemite. Mr. Huber also reported to the board on the certificated and classified personnel at Monterey Peninsula College in respect to the degrees they hold, their major and minor fields of study, courses they teach and years of service.

Trustees were reminded by Mr. Huber that the County Board of Supervisors will hold a public hearing in Salinas on October 31, 10:30 o'clock, on the annexation of Pacific Grove district, by petition, to the Monterey Peninsula Junior College District.

La Loma Terrace Asks To Annex To Sanitary District

Carmel Sanitary Board members this week, received a petition from La Loma Terrace property owners requesting that this subdivision northeast of Carmel be annexed to the sanitary district, and sewers installed.

The petition was signed by 18 property owners, some owning more than one lot. At present La Loma Terrace contains three dozen homes. There are 60-65 building sites in the area, according to Chris Nedderson, sanitary board secretary.

The request for annexation does not include the proposed Handley Hills subdivision, Mr. Nedderson observes. This area, immediately east of La Loma Terrace, is also outside the sanitary district borders.

The board requested their attorney, Colonel Shelburn Robison, to prepare a legal report, possible contract and cost estimates for their consideration on November 7. They will act on the annexation request at this meeting.

Also at this week's meeting sanitary board members elected Willis I. Shepard as their president for the next two years. He replaces James B. Pruitt whose two-year term ended at the September meeting.

FREE CHEST X-RAY

Carmel residents may obtain free chest X-rays Monday afternoon when the Monterey County Health Department's mobile X-ray unit will be parked near the post office from 1:00-5:00 o'clock.

The public health service will send postcards with results of the X-ray readings later. No clothes need to be removed and the X-ray takes only a few seconds.

Parents And Pupils Prepare For Oct. 22 Scholarship Carnival

The eleventh annual Carmel High School Scholarship Carnival will feature a circus theme at the many booths and concessions that will cover the campus on October 22. Parents, students and teachers are combining efforts to raise scholarship funds for Carmel High graduates. The event is jointly sponsored by the Girls' League and the High School P-TA unit.

General chairman for the P-TA activities is Mrs. John D. Campbell who stresses the Carnival is open to the public and that chairmen of the booths will be grateful for donations from the community. Parents of seniors are responsible for the Food Fair which will be in the cafeteria. Mrs. Luke Shields, MA 4-3998, and her committee will be at the cafeteria from 8:00 to 10:00 o'clock the day of the Carnival to accept cakes, pies, cookies, cupcakes, breads, candy, home canned goods.

An attractive Garden Gate booth will be staffed by parents of juniors guided by chairman Mrs. Dudley Swim, MA 4-1200. Among the requests are plants, well-rooted slips, driftwood, vases, shells and large cones. Donations may be taken to the South Carmel Hills home of Mrs. Gordon Reid, 3 Via Margarita.

Gifts and Gadgets will be the concern of sophomore parents. Chairman Mrs. August Johnson, MA 4-8621, reports the need for more aprons, small gift items, doll clothes, trimmings, unused prizes and saleable white elephants.

Freshmen parents will serve Circus Chili at the Carnival. Mrs. Milton Dennis, MA 4-2463, is in charge of this project.

Student committees are also working on many concessions. General chairman is Gay Antoncich, president of Girls' League.

Committee chairmen include:

Pat Rhodes, publicity, Jeannie Roeder, prizes, Ann Saulsbury and Helga Gunn, booths, Ellen Merrifield and Gerald Taylor, finance and tickets, Bob Little, parade, Joy Fehring, King and Queen contest, Chris Rose, food booth, Alison Miller, publications, Jim Pruitt and Paul Fiske, sound, Mike Dunham, construction, Cathy Dancy, evening event.

STUDENTS INVITED TO C.S. TALK

Joseph G. Heard, supervisor of the Christian Science College Organization Division of the Department of Branches and Practitioners of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, will give an informal talk at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Madison and Hermann Drive, Monterey, this evening at 8:00 o'clock. Interested college and high school students and parents are invited.

Carmel Teachers Assoc. Meets

Sixty-five members of the Carmel Teachers Association, last week, heard James Williamson, professional standards and ethics executive of the California Teachers Association, discuss Professionalism.

Mr. Williamson stressed the professional responsibility of individual teachers working with an effective group. Most important, he said, was that each child in a class should receive every possible teaching benefit. He also discussed local, state and national legislation affecting teachers and emphasized issues in the field of education currently proposed by both Presidential candidates.

Mrs. Beatrice Wiegman, president of the Carmel Teachers Association, presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Pike On World Tour

Mrs. Albert R. Pike, for the past two and a half years secretary at the Church of the Wayfarer, left last week for a trip around the world. She will be away from Carmel for almost a year.

Art On The Peninsula

The Laky Galleries are showing selected paintings of the following artists through October: Thomas A. McGlynn, Laura Maxwell, Linford Donovan, Abel G. Warshawsky, John O'Shea, Frank H. Myers, Michele Cascella, William P. Silva, Jesse Corsaut, Armin Hansen, Donald Teague, Jack Swanson, Margaret Ziegler, Louise Cardeiro Boyer, Henrietta Pearce, Barbara West, Ethlyn Crouch, Rip Mattheson, Pearl Houk, Marjorie Doolittle, William Ritschel, Feg Murray, Ben Messick, Zyta Laky.

The works represent a wide range of subject matter, individuality and design, characteristic of the local art scene.

Artists Guild of America, Monte Verde and Ocean, is exhibiting original black and white brush paintings and color woodblock prints by Lilian Miller. The show will remain on display on the mezzanine gallery till the end of this month.

A group exhibition of oil paintings by 25 Western artists will occupy the main gallery during the same period. Exhibiting artists include Paul Lauritz, Bennett Bradbury, Nell Walker Warner, Patricia Cunningham, Brownell McGrew, Leon Franks, Rollin Pickford, Edward Ward, Elmer Enquist, Melva Rue, Helen Dooley, Beulah Kosty, Marshall Merritt, Leo Braico, Egor Mead, Warren Brandon, Frank June, Barbara West, Helen Barker, Fredric Hobbs, Wayne Dye, Jeannette Bedwell and Mary Angel.

Lilian Miller was born in Tokyo while her father, the late Honorable Ransford S. Miller, was Consul-General of the United States. She received training in the classical style of Japanese painting while studying with Tomonobu Kano. After receiving a bachelor of arts degree at Vassar College, she returned to the Orient and studied with Bokusen Shimada, premier pupil of Baho. Her woodblocks are in the permanent collections of the British Museum, the Smithsonian Institution, the Chicago Art Museum and the Seattle Art Institute.

Emile Norman of Big Sur will exhibit 11 pieces of sculpture in a one-man show at the Feingarten Gallery, New York City, from October 18 through November 12. Mr. Norman will go East for the show opening, then travel to Europe to execute a series of bronzes for exhibit here in July.

Angel, an endomosaic by Emile Norman, is included in Plastics-U.S.A., a show that will open in Leningrad on November 1 and also will be exhibited in Moscow, Tbilisi and Baku before leaving the U.S.S.R.

Carmel Highlands Gallery, during October, is showing the work of local artists who live between Carmel River and Malpaso Creek. Included in the show are paintings, sculpture, mosaics and metal work.

The Lawrence Drake Gallery announces the opening of a one-man show of collages and paintings by T. H. De Lap, Jr. The artist is a San Francisco designer, painter and mural award winner. He exhibits nationally and was honored this fall with a one-man show at the Oakland Art Museum. He is a member of the Executive Council of the San Francisco Art Association and currently teaches (Continued on Page Seven)

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

God's boundless love for man will be emphasized at Christian Science churches on Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Doctrine of Atonement" will be the Golden Text from I John (4:10): "Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this will be read (19:6) "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of Spirit,—the law of divine Love."

New low oven temperatures
keep foods warm for hours without overcooking!

The new gas oven control lets you dial low temperatures never before possible. Instead of 250° F., a point where food continues to cook, settings go down to 140° F. where meat can be kept warm and juicy for several hours without drying out or shrinking. Rare roasts stay rare!

New low temperatures will keep all foods warm and ready 'til served—without overcooking. But that's not all! You'll now have the right temperatures for warming plates and thawing frozen foods.

Symphony Orchestra With New Conductor Opens Season Oct. 25

The Monterey County Symphony opens its fifteenth season October 25 at Sunset Auditorium.

The orchestra and new conductor, Ronald Ondrejka, will be introduced to Carmel in a program which includes a big, richly orchestrated romantic symphony, Anton Bruckner's Symphony No. 4, also a contemporary American work, Henry Cowell's Hymn and Fugue Tune, and two pieces featuring an unusual soloist, Daniel Llorca, creative puppet-master. Llorca's Puppets International, which have appeared with symphony orchestras in the United States, Canada, Mexico and Europe, will perform the Ballet Music from Gounod's opera Faust and the high-spirited overture to Offenbach's Orpheus in Hades.

Second concert of the season will take place December 7 in the Wharf Opera House in Monterey, and will include works by Dvorak, Ives and Beethoven, with violinist Stanley Plummer as guest soloist. The 1961 Spring concerts, March 14 and May 15 in Sunset Auditorium, will feature cellist Ira Lehn and works by Boccherini, Milhaud, Schumann and Mendelssohn, and, for the final concert, a program of music from the opera by Stravinsky, Handel and Mozart, with soloists and chorus.

The orchestra, reorganized by Ondrejka and augmented by over a score of new players, is the largest in the symphony's history. Its 75 musicians represent virtually every community in the county.

Working closely with conductor Ondrejka this season are assistant conductor-concertmaster John Erickson, a member of the Monterey Peninsula College music faculty, and assistant concertmaster Gary Beswick of Seaside, as well as Angie Machado, chairman of the symphony's music committee.

Filling the orchestra's important

"first chairs" are: Muriel Brady, second violin; Eleanor Siewart, viola; Louise Vadetsky, cello (Mrs. Vadetsky is also the orchestra's personnel manager); Edwin Culver, bass; Ray Fabrizio, flute; Bill Clapper, oboe; Robert Lee, clarinet; John Daly, bassoon; Jerry Jansen, trombone; Fred Bergstone, french horn.

Carmel musicians playing in the orchestra are Kay Asplin, King Benton, Charlotte Perry, Sharon Jones, Ronnie Cummings and Milton Mayer, violins; David Hagemeyer and Marie Sale, viola; Nancy Jensen, bass; Bob Boyer, bassoon; and John Farr, trumpet. Representing Carmel Highlands are Mary Smith, violin; Chandler Smith, viola; and Mrs. Walter deMartini, harp.

painting at the Academy of Art in San Francisco.

The exhibition will continue through November 4. The Drake Gallery is located at San Carlos and 8th Avenue in Carmel.

The Contemporary Crafts Gallery, Sixth and Lincoln, has on display original pottery, rugs, enamels and jewelry.

The show of water colors, oils, and drawings by Rainey Bennett at the Feingarten Gallery will close tomorrow.

Thirty still-life paintings by Ben Bishop are being shown at the Discovery Gallery, Casa Manana, Monterey.

Tomorrow Last Day To Mail Listings For Council Compass

Tomorrow is the last day 1960-1961 listings may be sent for inclusion in the Council Compass, free publication of the Monterey Peninsula Community Council. The third issue of the Compass will list meeting dates and planned events of Peninsula organizations, agencies, service clubs, civic bodies, etc. Such information, on a postcard, should be mailed immediately to Mrs. Gladys Parks, USO, Webster and El Estero, Monterey, if it is to be listed in this year's publication.

The Monterey Peninsula Community Council is a community coordinating group composed of two representatives from each organization that pays an annual $5.00 membership fee, and individual members who join for $1.00. Meetings are held monthly at the USO. The local council is one of four sections of the Monterey County Community Council.

Kay Goines, Teacher At Woods School, Is Workbook Co-Author

Mrs. Kay Goines, kindergarten teacher at Woods School, is the co-author of two new workbooks for use in California schools. They are designed to prepare kindergarten pupils for reading instruction. Dr. Charles Carter and Dr. Vergil Hughes, professors at San Jose State College, are the other two authors of the books entitled My First Readiness Workbook and My Second Readiness Workbook. Bookmasters of San Jose are the publishers of the two volumes.

The workbooks grew out of last summer's experiences when Mrs.

Goines was the paid kindergarten teacher in the Stanford elementary demonstration school, part of the Stanford education department. The summer program in which Mrs. Goines took part is specially planned so that teachers may observe good teaching programs.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

A glance at the contents of a recent book shows us such chapter headings as Fear—the Great Enemy, The Difficult Art of Maturity, Learning to be Useful, and Facing Responsibility. The title of the book could be none other than You Learn by Living by Eleanor Roosevelt. This is a book written from the long and interesting life of America's First Woman Citizen. It is gentle, gracious, and sincere.

Lord Lothian was described by Winston Churchill as the greatest ambassador to the United States that England ever had. A new biography of him by Sir James Butler is entitled Lord Lothian.

Erna Pinner is the writer-artist whose recent book is called Born Alive. It describes a strange collection of animal babies, all kinds, all environments, and all with pictures. Nature lovers and artists take note of this book which fills a gap in our collection.

The Conscience of a Conservative by Senator Barry Goldwater has made the best seller lists. There is perhaps little need to tell you, that in it he gives his heartfelt convictions about affairs in this country and abroad. It is said to be a book which shocks orthodox politicians, but there are none such here.

If you are planning a trip to Mexico or to lower California we have the new revised edition of Francis Toor's Guide to Mexico. It is a small hand-size book with maps of cities as well as the usual tourist helps. Don't take this one with you.

In the matter of cookbooks there seems to be two schools of thought. On the one hand we have the compilers who make them bigger and more tempting with loads of pictures of mouth-watering foods in frustrating arrangements. On the other hand are the compilers who do the small practical books for specific purposes. This week we have one of each. The Ladies Home Journal Cookbook is big and beautiful and the Bernard Wolfe book is small and practical and is called Cooking for One or Two. The first one is wonderful but the second one fills a real need for the small family. Try them both.

The latest Manning Coles is called Nothing to Declare, 12 Short Stories Starring Tommy Hambledon, but the good thing about it is that the stories are connected by a thin thread so that it is almost like a novel, and yet you can put it down satisfied at the end of each chapter. A convenient arrangement for certain situations.

Those of you who enjoyed Our Glad by Joyce Warren will accept at face value the news that her sequel is called Glad Tidings. There are more novels and an interesting array of non-fiction this week. Start your fall reading with a check of the new books lists on the bulletin board.

Canvas And Couture Saturday, Sunday

Fifty Monterey Peninsula painters will show their most recent oils at the Rancho del Monte Country Club in Carmel Valley during the second annual Canvas and Couture art and fashion show Saturday and Sunday.

The two day event is sponsored annually by the women of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Mission.

Joanne Nix has created a ballet especially for Canvas and Couture. The art exhibition opens at 12:00 noon Saturday and Sunday. The ballet and fashion show will be presented at 3:00 o'clock Sunday. Refreshments will be served.

Episcopal Churches Making Plans For Elementary School

An elementary Parochial School on the Peninsula has been under consideration for some months by a committee of clergy and lay people representing the six Episcopal Churches. Special committees have been exploring standards of education, both secular and religious, proper location and finances involved in such a project.

With the overcrowding of the elementary and junior high grades, with the absence of any religious system, with the possibility of more individual attention and smaller classes, such a school would fill a growing need, the committee believes. A public meeting to consider the enterprise will be held on November 15, at 8:00 o'clock in the Parish House of St. John's Chapel, Del Monte, located east of Mark Thomas Inn on Fremont Street.

Audubon Lecture Tomorrow Evening At Sunset School

River of the Crying Bird with Allan D. Cruickshank, lecturer, is the topic of the first lecture in the current Monterey Peninsula Audubon Lecture Series. It is to be presented tomorrow night, 8:00 o'clock at Sunset Auditorium.

Allan D. Cruickshank has spent years photographing birds throughout our nation. He often supplements his all-color motion pictures with imitations of the birds' own calls and songs. The New Yorker Magazine once carried a story about a group of bird watchers in Central Park who excitedly recorded the year's first rose-breasted grosbeak song, which proved to be a "Cruickshank" call instead!

Mr. Cruickshank was graduated from New York University where he majored in biology and public speaking. He has been an official lecturer for the National Audubon Society for many years. For fifteen successive years his photographs have been included in U.S. Camera Yearbook as among the best of the year, and have appeared in National Geographic Magazine, Nature Magazine, Audubon Magazine, Natural History and Life, as well as in leading newspapers.

Both season and single admission tickets may be purchased at the box office the evening of the performance.

WAC Board Entertains Belgians

Point Lobos was the setting on October 2 for a picnic held by the board of directors of the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula for the Belgian Special Economic Mission to the United States headed by His Royal Highness Prince Albert of Belgium. He was accompanied by his wife, Princess Paola, the Belgian Ambassador Louis Scheyven and his wife, and a group of some thirty Belgian policy-making bankers and industrialists.

Mrs. Charles McHarry, foreign visitors chairman of the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula and Mrs. Walter Lehmann, co-chairman, were in charge of the affair. Serving on their committee were Mrs. C. Tod Singleton, Mrs. S. Fletcher Dutton, Mrs. Donald Teague, Mrs. Paul Glibe and Mrs. L. W. Klene. Mrs. Howard Bruggeman and Mrs. David H. Gill were the hostess at the buffet luncheon table. Hostesses at individual tables included Mrs. Thomas N. Barrows, Mrs. Archer Allan, Mrs. Gladys Kingsland Dixon, Mrs. L. W. Klene, Mrs. Steven H. Sassoon, Miss Alice Seckels, Mrs. Raymond A. Spruance, Mrs. Donald Teague and Mrs. Hans Von Richter. Mrs. Florence Warren did the table decorations.

After lunch the group was taken on a short tour of the Peninsula. Guides for the tour included S. Fletcher Dutton, president of the local Council, Dr. Thomas N. Barrows, first vice-president, Howard F. Bruggeman, second vice-president, Admiral C. Tod Singleton, Mrs. Frank G. Ringland, Mr. Stanley Oakes, Mrs. Harry Beshore and Mrs. Hans Von Richter.

Before the group returned to San Francisco Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dahl of Pebble Beach entertained them and the guides for tea. Mrs. Dahl was assisted by Mrs. Raymond A. Spruance and Mrs. C. Tod Singleton.

Among others attending the picnic were Harry L. Beshore, Captain Archer M. R. Allen, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Broadbush, Mr. and Mrs. Leon C. Cone, Miss Augusta DeForest, Miss Gwendolyn DeForest, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Fletcher, David H. Gill, Vice Admiral and Mrs. H. H. Goodwin, Dr. and Mrs. Henry H. Houghton, L. W. Klene, Charles P. McHarry, Mrs. E. L. Nichols, Mrs. Stanley B. Oakes, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Rattray, Steven H. Sassoon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Strong, Admiral Raymond A. Spruance, Donald Teague, Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Vetter, Hans Von Richter and Miss Theodosia Winfree.

Belgian Consul General Marcel G. Rijnmenans had suggested the group include a trip to the Monterey Peninsula on its itinerary. The special mission was entertained here by the local board members at the request of the World Affairs Council of Northern California.

Mimi Hennessey Sets Date

Mary Alice (Mimi) Hennessey has set November 27 as the date for her marriage to Carmel artist Gus Velletri. Their engagement was announced this week by Mimi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Hennessey of Seaside.

Mimi, a graduate of Monterey Peninsula College, also studied at Washington State College and as an English major at the University of California. Her brothers are Patrick, James, Thomas and William Hennessey.

Her fiancé has lived in Carmel for three years. His studio is in the Carmel Craft Studios where he specializes in pastel portraits. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Velletri of Providence, Rhode Island. He has studied art in Italy and in the United States in Providence, Boston, Cape Cod and New York City.

Mike Glover Finishes Training

Marine Private Michael E. Glover has completed individual combat training at Camp Pendleton in Southern California. He received instruction in infantry tactics, first aid, demolitions, field fortifications and advanced schooling in weapons. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde B. Glover, Sr.

High Sierra Slide Program

A Pack Trip Into the High Sierra will be the title of the Wednesday program at the Carmel Foundation Town House. Mr. Stuart Mitchell, superintendent of district schools, will show color slides of his recent trip. Following the program, starting at 3:00 o'clock, tea will be served.

Discussion At Nepenthe

A discussion on ways to peace and survival will be held tomorrow evening at 9:30 o'clock at Nepenthe, Big Sur. Speakers will be Ross Flanigan, American Friends Service Committee, Senator Fred Farr, Dr. John E. Craig and William F. Bryan. Milton Mayer will be moderator.

Letters..

Carmel, California
October 7, 1960

Mr. Robert Little:

This letter is written in response to your letter which appeared on the front page of a local paper on October 6, 1960.

Although you are not a resident of Carmel, Mr. Little, I feel sure that as a motel operator in our village you are interested in our city planning and zoning. I wish to compliment you for this interest and to assure you that I respect the opinions of non-residents of Carmel in all matters pertaining to our municipal government.

Your letter attributes to me an attitude of desiring to surround your motel with gasoline service stations, sheet metal shops and the like. I am sorry that you have come to this erroneous conclusion, and I am at a loss to know the basis for your supposition in this matter. The proposed new central district zoning ordinance comes before the council at a public hearing on Monday night, October 10, 1960, at 8:15 p.m. This will be the first occasion the Carmel City Council will have to officially consider this proposed document. I have never made statements, publicly or privately, that would infer such ideas as you attribute to me in your published letter. I do not appreciate statements made about me, either orally or in writing, which are not based upon the truth. If you will examine official records during my term as Mayor of Carmel you will find no occasion on which I have pre-judged a matter that came before or was to come before the City Council at a public hearing.

Again I thank you for your interest in the government of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Respectfully yours,
Frank Putnam.

Carmel, Calif.
October 12, 1960

Editor, The Pine Cone:

In the proposed Central District Zoning Ordinance, the permissible eighty feet street frontage for building sites would apply indiscriminately throughout the business district. There is, however, one section of the business district which means something very special both to residents and visitors, and that is the row of shops along Ocean Avenue.

Ocean Avenue is different from the rest of the business district. The lots are smaller, with only twenty-five feet frontage, and in general this governs the size of Ocean Avenue shops. Some are larger; some are smaller. But on the whole these small business lots have resulted in the series of small shops which have helped to make Ocean Avenue, Carmel, vastly different from Main Street, U.S.A.

Up to now big stores have not taken over Ocean Avenue. But we have no assurance that they will not do so in the future, within the limits permitted by the zoning ordinance. Ocean Avenue blocks are two hundred feet long. The proposed Central District Ordinance permits store frontages of eighty feet, or two-fifths of an entire block. Let us try to imagine what Ocean Avenue would look like if, instead of seven or eight or more little shops per block, it had just three stores per block.

It has been suggested that there be an area limitation of eight thousand square feet on building sites throughout the business district. I believe that this would be a good thing. But we must realize that this would not insure us ten years from now against having an Ocean Avenue characterized by three stores per block. All the business lots in a single block fronting on the south side of Ocean Avenue have a total combined area of twenty-four thousand square feet. On the north side the combined area of a block of business lots is only twenty thousand square feet. Hence, on either side of the street the suggested eight thousand square feet limitation on building sites still would not insure against a future Ocean Avenue with three stores per block.

Regardless of what the proposed Central District Ordinance might permit throughout the rest of the business district for businesses which need more space, the eighty feet frontage limitation should be drastically reduced for the special case of Ocean Avenue, if we wish to insure that it remain a street of small shops. An occasional store along Ocean Avenue occupying two business lots is not objectionable. In fact, it lends a variety which enhances the pleasing appearance of the street. But the typical frontage of an Ocean Avenue business site is definitely twenty-five feet, and should remain so.

I wonder if it would not be feasible to specify that, on each side of Ocean Avenue in any one block, one and only one building site be permitted a frontage up to sixty feet (in practice only fifty feet would be used most of the time) and all other business sites in the block be limited to a frontage of thirty-five feet (in practice only twenty-five feet would be used most of the time). This would provide some flexibility while at the same time insuring that Ocean

Avenue remain a street of small shops.

Probably other and better plans could be suggested to the same end. But the Central District Ordinance should state the unique character and importance of Ocean Avenue and handle it as a special case, limiting the permissible frontage to the end that it remains a street of small shops.

Chester Coulter.

Galloways' Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. A. Russel Galloway of Sacramento and Carmel were married 25 years ago on October 12 in St. Peter's Episcopal Church in San Francisco. Last weekend they celebrated their silver wedding anniversary in Carmel with a series of parties. Guests included Mrs. Galloways' maid of honor 25 years ago, her four bridesmaids, one of Mr. Galloway's wedding ushers, their spouses and friends from Seattle, San Francisco, Sacramento and England.

The silver wedding celebrations started with a cocktail party and buffet dinner Friday night at the Galloways' home on Scenic Drive, continued Saturday evening with a dinner dance at the Beach Club and concluded Sunday with a brunch at the Tennis Ranch in Carmel Valley.

Members of the original wedding party at the silver wedding anniversary were Mrs. Burnham Enersen of San Francisco, maid of honor, bridesmaids Mrs. Fred Farr of Carmel, Mrs. Conrad Tenney of Seattle, Mrs. Donald Spencer and Mrs. Kenneth Jenkins, both of Piedmont, and Paul Johnston of Piedmont, one of Mr. Galloway's wedding ushers.

Mr. Enersen, Senator Fred Farr, Mr. Tenney, Mr. Spencer, Dr. Jenkins and Mrs. Johnston were among the Galloways' guests, also Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wyckoff from Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Simmons of Selsey, England, and Mr. and Mrs. John Lowe of Santa Ana, in addition to ten guests from San Francisco and 16 from Sacramento.

Gourmet's Tasting Party Nov. 2

Forty-five foods from hors d'oeuvres through desserts, all original recipes, will be prepared and presented for tasting at the party to be given by members of the Symphony Guild at Mission Ranch in Carmel on November 2.

Co-chairmen of the committees who will prepare and serve the foods are: hors d'oeuvres, Mrs. Phyllis Spiegl and Mrs. John A. Murphy of Salinas; salads, Mrs. Paul Carroll and Mrs. L. L. Kotzebue of the Country Club; casseroles, Mrs. Harry Beshore and Mrs. G. P. Lamont of Carmel; desserts, Mrs. Charles O'Gara and Mrs. Philip C. Smith of Monterey; low calorie, Mrs. James Richardson and Mrs. Lester B. Robinson of Carmel; Messieurs Les Gourmets, Mrs. C. Van Houghton King, Jr. and Mrs. Charles M. Strodsner of Carmel.

The international food specialties will be Armenian, French, Italian, Hungarian and Polynesian. Mrs. Peter Kim of Carmel will again, by special request, serve the Cantonese dish, Won Ton, so popular at last year's Gourmet party. This is the only recipe to be repeated.

All of the proceeds from the Gourmet's Tasting Party are used for the benefit of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra. The public is invited.

Bud Conroy Arizona Phi Delt

A letter from Captain T. L. Conroy reports that the Conroys are now living in Coronado where Captain Conroy is on duty with the Commandant's Staff. They moved from Carmel in June when Captain Conroy was detached as Director of the Management School, U.S. Naval Postgraduate School.

The Conroys' son, Bud, who played football for Carmel High School before he graduated in 1959, is now attending the University of Arizona and has been pledged to Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Symphony Preview Tea Tuesday

Ronald Ondrejka, new conductor of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, will give a talk entitled Hemidemisemiquavers, Bruckner, Debussy, Cowell, Krszmary, for members of the Symphony Guild on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in All Saints' Parish Hall. Tea will be served.

The first Symphony concert this season will be held on October 25. Music by Henry Cowell, former Carmel resident, will be included in the program.

Mrs. Imlay, Ashton School Talk

Anyone interested in problems of orthopedically handicapped persons is invited to hear Mrs. Berenice Imlay, instructor at Ashton School, Salinas, discuss A Day At School, this evening at 8:00 o'clock. The talk will be included in the October meeting of the Parents and Friends of the Orthopedically Handicapped at Ashton School.

Woman's Club Book Section Meets

James Pope-Hennessy's best selling book, Queen Mary, will be reviewed by Miss Mabel C. Stark at the meeting of the Book Section of the Carmel Woman's Club, Monday afternoon, 2:00 o'clock. Miss Stark has been the Club's librarian for a number of years, and has also been active in the American Association of University Women since coming to live in Carmel in 1950. She is a graduate of Illinois State Normal University, B.S., M.S., University of Chicago, (geography) and has taught geography in State Teachers' Colleges in Illinois and New England, as well as in the High School of Commerce in San Francisco.

At the tea following her talk the pourers will be Mrs. Charles Trumbly and Miss Sophie Burgdoff. The hospitality chairman, Mrs. Carl Rasmussen, will have as her assistants Mrs. Norah Blair, Mrs. Edgar Wood Maybury, Mrs.

Robert J. Miller, Mrs. Frances H. Smithers, Mrs. H. G. Thompson and Mrs. C. John Viking.

WHAT'S DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel

Coast-to-coast phone calls by satellite. Scientists of Bell Telephone Laboratories tell us that someday long distance calls may very well reach your home via man-made satellites.

Working under National Aeronautics and Space Administration's sponsorship, they carried on a two-way phone conversation between the Bell Telephone Labs in New Jersey and a NASA base in California via a "Project Echo" satellite. The signals carrying their voices were bounced off a 100-foot aluminized plastic sphere orbiting 1000 miles above the earth.

The Bell Telephone System has outlined to the government a plan to use about 50 satellites to provide communications between the United States and other parts of the world. Besides relaying phone calls, these satellites could also bring you live television from anywhere on earth.

Election day, November 8, is still a few days off. But it's not too early to make plans so you'll be sure to get to the polls. If you need transportation, now's the time to arrange with your friends for a ride. If small children keep you close to home, perhaps you can swap baby-sitting chores with a neighbor.

You can make these arrangements by phone... but that's not why I mention them. I just want to remind you that every vote is important. Be sure you cast yours November 8.

If we're to believe cartoonists, nobody enjoys telephoning as much as today's teenagers. I won't risk an opinion on that subject, but I think you'll be interested in our special telephone training program for young people.

It's called Teletrainer, and it's mighty popular in high schools. Last year, for example, nearly a quarter of a million high school students were trained with it throughout the Pacific West.

We make Teletrainer available free of charge to help young people learn how to use telephones correctly.

SOLOMON'S SEAL

*This flower with pale bells
Brings back the name, the time
Of Solomon, the king.
I think I hear the chime
In Lebanon, his name
Where queens and concubines
Bow down before the king.
On hills of spice and vines
Pomegranates are in bloom.
Breath of these blossoms
Within the palace gate
Of Solomon, the king.
Return with wisdom's glow,
His pride in ancient lore,
The wonder of his word,
Return, return once more...*

—ANTONIA Y. SCHWAB

WOODLAND SANCTUARY

*This sanctuary of woodland comforts me.
I find a friend in every sovereign tree.
Here I may catch the bounding of a fawn Breaking upon the miracle hush of dawn.*

*Here where the shadow hours move into nights
I witness nature's immemorial rites,
The moon-glow priestess ruling her domain,
The chant of wind, the ritual of rain.*

*Here where no nations clash, no races feud,
My weary hands my touch the quietude.
Within these woods lies peace like a petal curled,
A tender bulwark against the tempest-world.*

FALL-OUT

*Dragging a foot, I went back to the fern shielded path along the river — after my people had been gone
a century.*

*The trees were taller, to grandmother they were
fire wood — not delight.
I was remembering, along that fern tangled path, stories of trilliums and of violets.*

*Then I saw the blue stain.
Limping rapidly, I knelt, thrust my hand deep in the glory and drew them to my face.*

*I fell back, I gasped alone in the shade —
each violet had six petals six spotted petals.*

Peggy And Jack In First Home

After a honeymoon in Southern California and Nevada, Mr. and Mrs. Garret Michael Furlong-Adams are now living in their home on San Carlos Street between Fifth and Sixth Avenues. Peggy is back at work in the Carmel branch of the Wells-Fargo Bank—American Trust Company and Gary has resumed his job with the Monterey branch of the same organization.

They were married recently at Carmel Mission Basilica. Peggy is the former Margaret Helen Carpenter. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Carpenter of Carmel. Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Adams of Carmel and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Adams of Pebble Beach.

The Reverend James Stapleton of Santa Catalina School officiated at the Nuptial Mass during which Peggy was given in marriage by her father. Her princess style peau de soie gown had a bodice of re-embroidered French lace with scalloped neckline. A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a cascade bouquet of butterfly orchids and stephanotis.

Maryann Odell of Sa Francisco was her maid of honor and her bridesmaids were Rosemary Phillips and Virgie Truitt of Carmel.

They wore similar gowns of blue silk organza and headbands of matching taffeta. White carnations and blue cornflowers were mingled in their bouquets.

Peter Carpenter, brother of the bride, was best man and ushers were Edison Holt Jr., and James Angier of Carmel and Marshall Matlock of San Francisco.

Mrs. Carpenter attended her daughter's marriage in a cornflower blue brocade dress, matching hat and accessories and a pink rose corsage.

Mrs. Adams, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy blue tie silk print dress, royal blue hat and a corsage of white roses.

The wedding breakfast after the ceremony, for the wedding party and members of the bride's and groom's families, was held at Cypress West Hotel and followed by a reception.

Out of town relatives at the wedding included Peggy's aunts, Mrs. Helen O'Leary and Mrs. Carl MacKenzie of New York; Gary's great-grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Megenity of Fresno; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Nathanson of Palo Alto; and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Starrett (Valerie Furlong) of Hollywood.

Lyn Williams In New Home

Jesse Lynch Williams Jr. (Lyn) has moved into a house on Camino Real below Sixteenth Avenue. He is busy in his new garden. "Lots of weeds, but lots of flowers and sun, too," he reports.

Dick Leutzinger Engaged

A summer wedding is being planned by Ann Hibbard and Richard Wolcott Leutzinger, both students at the University of Oregon. Their engagement was announced recently at a family party at the home of Ann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Hibbard of Oregon City.

Ann, a senior elementary education major, is affiliated with Chi Omega sorority. Dick, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Leutzinger of Carmel, graduated from Carmel High School in 1956, then spent two years in the Navy before enrolling at the university where he is a business administration major and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Ann has a brother, George Hibbard, also a student at the University of Oregon, and two sisters, Jane and Edith Hibbard, both of Oregon City. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. E. T. Hibbard of Portland.

Dick is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Wolcott of San Francisco. His brother, Tom Leutzinger, and his sister, Mary Jane Leutzinger, are both students at Carmel High School.

Horans Permanent Residents

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence P. Horan and their four children, Kevin, six, Kathleen, three, Maureen, one and one half, and Stephen, four months old, are settled in a home in Rancho Canada in Carmel Valley. They came here from Castro Valley. Mr. Horan, formerly a trial attorney in the Alameda County District Attorney's office for five years, is now associated in the practice of law here with Senator Fred S. Farr.

Special Masonic Meeting

Carmel Lodge, No. 680, F.&A.M., will hold a special meeting tomorrow evening at 8:00 o'clock to confer the first degree. Refreshments will be served after the meeting. All sojourners and members are invited.

Army Contributions To Chest Community Chest this week totalled $26,000, according to Brayton Witherell, Chest executive secretary. This represents $11,000 more than last year or a 75% increase, he points out.

Bunns Have Weekend Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Whiting of Beverly Hills, father and stepmother of Mrs. Thomas M. Bunn, spent last weekend as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bunn in Pebble Beach. Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bunn gave a cocktail party in honor of the visitors.

Visitors From Indianapolis

Mrs. Marie E. Davies gave a cocktail party on Tuesday for her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah L. Cadick of Indianapolis.

Carmel Valley residents, Tuesday night, decided at a meeting not to present necessary, already signed petitions, asking for formation of a recreation district, to the Board of Supervisors.

According to Dr. Grant Fletcher, president of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association, recent investigation disclosed that the proposed recreation district would have no control over adjacent uses. This control would still be a function of the county planning commission, which by allowing use permits, might permit undesirable development in the general area proposed for Valley recreation.

Carmel Unified School District trustees canvassed the October 4 bond election vote on Tuesday night. Final results: Yes, 2277; No, 756. Absentee vote tally was Yes, 24; No, 1.

A mother carried a toddler and herded two other small children up the steps from Reamer's Beach on Carmel Point recently while cars passed in rapid succession along Scenic Drive. The older children fortunately heeded her admonishments and stopped before they climbed the steep step onto the busy thoroughfare.

When their mother caught up with them, she remarked, "I wonder why the county doesn't put a Slow Children sign here." So do we, and also suggest a pedestrian crossing on the Scenic Drive roadway at the top of the steps. Weekend and holiday traffic at this point create a pedestrian hazard, also the top step is so steep that small children are not easily visible to motorists watching the blind curve around the Stewart house.

California Roadside Council in the fall issue of its bulletin reports: "Local progress on sign control: Riverside County has enacted one of the best measures yet, which will eventually wipe out the billboard clutter now defacing many of its highways such as approaches to the desert resort areas. Eyesores of other types also are dealt with. Placer County is well on its way to final enactment of a measure protecting its most scenic highways against outdoor advertising. Santa Cruz plans early action on a good inclusive sign control measure.

"The Oregon Roadside Protection Committee" has succeeded famously in getting many more than enough signatures to put a billboard-control measure on the state ballot. We offer congratulations and best wishes for success in the November voting. Unless the California Legislature responds to the demands for effective control in our own state, an initiative measure here, as in Oregon, will have to be the answer."

Margaret Owings' name appears for the first time on the slate of Roadside Council directors proposed by the nominating committee for election this month. Mrs. Owings, who lives at Big Sur, is a director of the Lobos League. There isn't a better conservationist in the county, or a harder working one. She will be an asset to the Roadside Council, and it is a good thing for this area to have representation in this organization which works for roadside sightliness: Billboard control, roadside rests, freeway landscaping and litter control.

Senior Arts Crafts Show Opens Monday

Members of the Board of the Carmel Foundation will act as hostesses each day, Mrs. Leonard Carpenter, chairman, for it was an initial gift for equipment from the Foundation that made it possible for the senior craftsmen and artists to undertake this new venture. At present there are over 40 craftsmen and artists taking advantage of this outlet, keeping them remuneratively active and encouraging their creativity.

The calendar for Art In Action includes both craftsmen and painters. Monday, Articles from Driftwood by Mrs. Elizabeth Surdez; Tuesday, Rug Making by Mrs. Dorothy Thorne; Wednesday, Driftwood Carving by Mrs. Mary Reiss; Thursday, Copper by Arthur Scott and Leaf Printing by Dr. Paula Tobias; Friday, Christmas Wreaths by Mrs. Eunice Messent and Ceramic Decoration by Mrs. Anna Kenefick; Saturday, Driftwood Jewelry by Mrs. Elsa Heymann.

The painters who will demonstrate landscape and portraiture during the week are George Young, Mrs. Emily Graves, Mrs. Elizabeth Hurst, John Granfield, and Mrs. Mary Fitch Greenwood.

Editorial...

(Continued from Page One) possible for anyone to develop land except in a service or a light industry zone. Zoning determines commercial development. With noisy, unsightly uses permitted in the only undeveloped area of the town, where are the professional and businesses offices to go? The off street parking section of the ordinance has been shelved until the rest of the ordinance is passed, but it will be brought out again, and it requires that every tenant in town, doctor, lawyer, merchant, either will have to find an office or store that has off street parking or pay in lieu tax to the city. This is bound to create a demand for new professional and possibly retail buildings with off street parking. But there is no place for them except in the proposed service zone or light industry zone. The racket of a cutlery grinder, a plumbing shop, a bus depot, a gas station next door to a doctor's office is hardly "compatible."

Two thirds of the town will be deprived of Class 1 zoning, if this ordinance is adopted. But most of the property owners will probably put up with the designation "service zone" for land they bought as Class 1 if the council gets out its pencils and firmly drawn lines through the listed uses, permitted and "conditional" which are not allowed under our present ordinance.

LWV Candidates' Meeting Oct. 24

The Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters is focusing attention this month on the United Nations and the approaching election.

The general membership will concentrate on The UN and the World Court following a salad luncheon on Thursday at the New Monterey Neighborhood Center. Mrs. Richard Eldred, who served as national item chairman for the California state League of Women Voters last year, will discuss the League history as concerns the UN. Mrs. Leon Cone will introduce some of the important problems the Assembly will be seeking to settle. Mrs. E. A. H. Watson will explain the Connally Amendment, the "self-judging reservation" that the United States has included as the price of her participation in the judgements of the World Court.

Members of the Carmel unit will be hostesses for the luncheon. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Cone. Mrs. H. T. Stotler, president, reminds that all League meetings are open to the public.

The League's election-year project, the Candidates' Meeting will also be open to the public on October 24 at the Monterey USO. Mrs. Howard Clark, Voters Service chairman, announced that the six candidates for California representation in the House of Representatives as well as the state senate and assembly will be present to give their views and answer questions.

On October 22, a panel of League members will present Pros and Cons of Ballot Measures for the Santa Cruz AAUW.

"Pines Going In" Jackhammer Racket Becomes A Promise

Who would expect the racket of the jack hammer breaking up sidewalk would become music to the ear! In view of the street department's performance in the past three weeks, Carmelites are beginning to recognize a cheerful prediction in the jack hammer's clattering voice: "Pines going in; pines going in," it promises.

The sidewalk repair and replacement program, which is producing the noise, is also producing a veritable Christmas for the community. Each new sidewalk strip replacing an old one is provided with tree holes, and within a day or two, after completion of the sidewalk, young pines are planted where pines never grew before, such as last week's job at the southeast corner of Dolores and Seventh. Three pines have been planted on the Dolores Street frontage, two on Seventh.

Street Commissioner Francis Whitaker, unhappy about the regulation squared off cement sidewalk put in by commercial contractors at the Hob Nob, the Dolores-Seventh job, has asked the council to draw up a set of standards for sidewalks. Meanwhile, the street department which put in the sidewalk in front of Fortier's on Ocean at Dolores this week has colored the material pinkish tan. No pines go in on this job. There is a magnificent old giant there already and new sidewalk was laid so as to give it more trunk room at the base.

RARE CHARM AND RARE VALUE

A 5 BEDROOM storybook home, or a home and income combination: however you see it, this Comstock-built property is an amazing value at $33,500. The living room has unusual millwork and a stone fireplace, newly carpeted and draped. Family room (or second living room) has cork floors, outside entrance, and another interesting stone fireplace. A home you will be proud to own. Excellent financing.

WHAT'S THE MATTER?

WHY IS THIS HANDSOME, 3 bedroom home with its 36 ft. living room on a 90x125 ft. lot still on the market? Because it is located in proximity to Highway 1 and no one has yet had the inclination to build a fence, that's why. Only $5,000 down, and the full price is $29,500. If you like fine traditional styling, you owe it to yourself to see this artist's home.

A "FIX-UP" SPECIAL

FOR $18,900 you get a two bedroom home with more than 1400 sq. ft., which means the rooms are huge. Well-built, located on Ocean Ave., just a stone's throw from the Village. All it needs is buckets and buckets of paint and a little love and affection for the garden. Decide for yourself if it's worth it.

School Still Sits On Total Recreation Tax, "Center" Out In Cold

gested there might be a need for shuffleboard courts.

Chief Klaumann stated that horseshoe pitching was an old Carmel pastime and that requests had been received for courts on which to play the game.

Harold H. Bond, in the audience, substantiated Chief Klaumann's statements and added that Carmel Hi-Twelve Club was definitely interested in supporting two horseshoe courts. "We want to get something done," he said.

Clarence Fawcett, from the audience, also emphasized the need for horseshoe courts.

Don Near, also in the audience, spoke enthusiastically about the advantages of shuffleboard courts. He said he went to Palm Springs for several months each year just to play this game; Town House members had a makeshift court at present but would like proper courts. It was not an expensive form of recreation, he continued, and particularly pleasant for older persons. A good foundation and fencing to protect the court surface would be necessary, he added. The installation would blend with natural landscaping. Interest in the game would grow as soon as it was started.

Commissioners voted to recommend installation of courts for both games at the Mission and First site. Chairman Nieto suggested that benches, sanitary and storage facilities be added.

P. A. McCreery, at the request of Chairman Nieto, presented the present financial status of the Youth Center. He stressed the need for funds and the organization's dislike of fund drives. A solution, he said, was to "put the problem in the lap of the school district." He was referring to possible support for the Youth Center from recreation tax funds administered by school trustees.

The school district now gives $3,500 a year to the center, but has indicated this support may not be forthcoming in the future.

Mr. McCreery suggested that legal advice for using the school district administered tax for the center be explored.

"I believe that the trustees would let the Center continue as it is, even if they dissolved the adult Youth Center board or revised it," he said.

Commissioner Yates, also a school trustee, was skeptical about the possibility of the same type of Youth Center management if the center were supported by the tax. He cited smoking as an instance where state law governed school administered property. "Two pieces of school property cannot be different in this respect, and irate people would complain about the use of tobacco at the center."

Chairman Nieto thought that five cents of the ten-cent district recreation tax devoted to community services might be given to the Youth Center. Total recreation tax funds amount to $40,000.

Commissioner Wakefield, also recreation director for the school district, pointed out that at the next session of the legislature uses for recreation tax money in respect to community service allocations will be rewritten.

The county counsel had devised the present means by which the school district allots funds to the Youth Center by allocating the money first to the city, the city to the recreation commission which, in turn, disburses it to the center. This distribution might be prevented by new legislation, Mr. Wakefield implied.

If the district supported Carmel Youth Center it would also have to support a Carmel Valley Youth Center that Valley parents wish to establish as they object to their children driving to Carmel Youth Center or having to drive the Valley road themselves at night when transporting their children to Carmel.

Mr. Wakefield also pointed out that Carmel Youth Center was a private non-profit operation, not a recreation project.

Mr. Yates suggested formation of a recreation district to support the Youth Center, even if it had drawbacks. He said, in his opinion, school trustees should devote more and more time to education and less to administration, including recreation.

Mr. Wakefield then stated that recreation tax funds used for community services include costs for all meetings of various groups held in school buildings, part of adult school program, physical education costs. An adult school supported physical education class, by law, must have 40 minutes of every hour devoted to exercises. In two-hour periods, as now available in Carmel, that would mean persons in the classes "would not be able to walk home," Mr. Wakefield remarked.

Using community service tax money, the Carmel adult classes have 20 minutes of exercises, 20 minutes of recreation, 20 minutes of physical education. "It is as games, he said. Monterey school district assesses five cents recreation tax for the elementary school district, five cents for high school district. "They now may add five cents for the junior college district," he indicated. Carmel district at present, being unified, uses its full ten-cent recreation tax

"Other Business" Of The October 5 Council Meeting

No protests were heard on two hearings on costs of sidewalk repairs on Eighth Avenue west of San Carlos and on the south side of Ocean west of Monte Verde. The council moved that the city excuse the cost of labor and equipment in the amount of $772.94 in the first instance and $301.07 in the second to account for its part in repair of the part of the damage caused by tree stumps and roots.

Councilmen were told the term "excuse" was a legal necessity since the city cannot assume its own assessments but it can "excuse" them.

Later in the agenda the council discussed the provision which requires cash payment by property owners of sidewalk repair assessments within five days after being notified by the city clerk of a reduced amount because of tree damage. Everyone thought five days was too short a period and City Attorney John Morse made plans to find out if the property owners could be somehow notified of the forthcoming assessment ahead of time.

Several other actions were taken by the council including:

Approved a report authorizing capital outlay for a sprinkler system on Ocean Avenue.

Heard a progress report before limitation. "We may be paying 15 cents," Mr. Wakefield pointed out.

"We were hoping for some solution for the Youth Center," Chairman Nieto said at this point.

"The Youth Center is our (adult board) problem and that of the citizens of the town," Mr. McCreery stated, "we would appreciate a peaceful and practical solution."

Mr. Chitwood invited everyone to compare Carmel Youth Center with others in the area and decide whether it should remain private or not.

The meeting adjourned leaving the Youth Center with a $15,000 annual budget to be met if it is to remain in operation, $10,900 of this amount devoted to salaries in various categories.

continuing the liability insurance program proposal under which the city would accept a program of partial self insurance to the amount of $10,000 to be underwritten by insuring agencies at a possible saving of $15,000 per year to the city. City Attorney Morse and City Clerk Larry Rose were instructed to confer with San Jose officials—San Jose has a similar set-up now working—before attending the League of California Cities meeting in Los Angeles late this month.

Turned down on recommendation of lands and improvements a request by Julia Minor to have an embankment at Mission and Tenth declared a hazard and attractive nuisance to children, on grounds the embankment has been there 18 years and the very young children for whom the embankment was considered dangerous are no longer attending Sunset School in the neighborhood.

A STATEMENT OF POLICY

The new Carmel Plaza Pharmacy will soon be open, and in bidding for your patronage, I want everybody to know something of our business philosophy.

First, the Carmel Plaza Pharmacy is a privately owned and operated enterprise. Any franchised lines represented in our store, including Rexall, are there because we are convinced that they enable us to offer you more and better merchandise, and services, for your money.

We came to Carmel from a small town in the rural area of the State of Washington. We still own a drug and prescription pharmacy there which we are preparing to turn over gradually to our co-workers who have been faithful to us for many years. Mrs. Hulsey and I have established our home for our children here. I have been in the drug business for 28 years, the last 15 years as an individual owner and operator. In this time I have personally filled and complied with the Doctors' orders on over one million prescriptions. This is my life's work and I'm proud to be part of the nation's health team.

I pledge to offer the finest drug and prescription services possible.

I pledge to offer these services at reasonable, decent prices, and to offer our trade every advantage of quantity purchase or price revision at suppliers' level as soon as available to us.

Our success in the past is based on the fact that our customers are also our friends. We will strive toward that goal in Carmel.

Your satisfaction in our store carries my personal guarantee, and I will be there to see that this policy is carried out.

We will have our new store open over this weekend, for inspection. We hope it will add to the beauty of Carmel.

Come in and inspect! It will take some time to get everything ship-shape, but in the meantime we will have a FREE CUP OF COFFEE at our new fountain waiting for you.

We extend a most cordial invitation to meet us personally.
